A FRESH PERSPECTIVE

INTRODUCTION

With the development of the North Village, Windsor completes the final phase of a passion project begun by co-founders W. Galen and Hilary M. Weston over three decades ago. The North Village is at once a seamless expansion of this beloved seaside community and a fresh new vision for it. Inspired both by past success and future possibilities, it builds on the thoughtfully crafted master plan and elegant architectural aesthetic established by pioneering New Urbanism architects Andrés Duany and Elizabeth Plater-Zyberk while introducing an even greater commitment to sustainability.

A VILLAGE BY THE SEA

HISTORY

In the early 1990's, Mr. and Mrs. Weston left their home in Toronto, Canada, to visit South Florida in search of a winter residence for themselves and their children. In Vero Beach they discovered an idyllic location between the Indian River and the Atlantic Ocean. Over the following years, working closely with architects Duany and Plater-Zyberk, the Westons transformed this lush swath of land into the critically acclaimed private residential community of Windsor.

In Windsor's early days, when there were just a few homes and a polo field, Mr. Weston—an accomplished polo player—hosted spirited polo matches for friends and family. Over time, with the development of the Village, the addition of a links-style championship golf course and jasmine-scented tennis courts, as well as a sophisticated program of cultural events, membership thrived. A community with small-town charm and world-class amenities became a vibrant and diverse destination. Members return to year after year, building treasured memories with friends and loved ones.

A LASTING LEGACY

NATURE & SUSTAINABILITY

Windsor is a legacy endeavor for the Weston family. Just as Mr. and Mrs. Weston worked together to establish the community in the early 1990s, now Mrs. Weston and daughter Alannah Weston have shaped an evolved vision for Windsor's North Village. Based upon the principles of the New Urbanism movement, their vision is enhanced with heightened focus on sustainability to ensure the North Village can be enjoyed for generations to come. A mix of residences, green public spaces and new amenities will combine to create an experience that balances privacy and community. Nature will be brought to the fore with scenic trails, landscaping that respects the barrier island's unique climate, and a rich habitat to support native flora and fauna. In details such as shaded walkways and quiet places to pause and take in peaceful water views, the North Village will foster well-being.

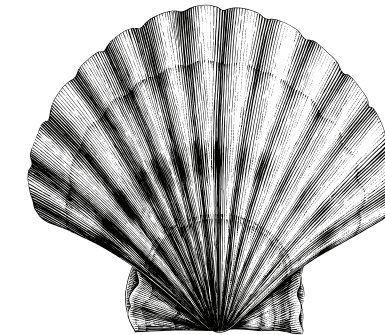

A NATURAL TAPESTRY

Landscaping inspired by the Indian River Lagoon's rich ecology will incorporate native plants and water to create a curated experience of the natural surroundings and weave the North Village seamlessly into its environs. This endeavor is being carried out by a hand-selected team with expertise in ecologically sensitive locations, advanced conservation practices and sustainable landscape design. The plan the team has created is a feast for the senses, a horticultural tapestry of species selected for color, scent and suitability for the barrier island's particular climate. This is bolstered by organic and non-toxic maintenance practices that promote a healthy and balanced ecosystem. These and other measures will support fragile and symbiotic natural systems, reducing energy demands and fostering an environment in which wildlife can continue to flourish.

THE NORTH VILLAGE

RESIDENCES

Encompassing 47 acres adjacent to the Indian River Lagoon and featuring an estuary and a sparkling freshwater lake, the North Village is a natural and complementary extension of the existing Windsor community. America's leading New Urbanism proponents, DPZ CoDESIGN, have designed the master plan, focusing on principles of sustainability, walkability, healthy living and community values. A mix of 34 single-family residences and six Row Houses as well as new amenities will be built around the estuary and lake, providing opportunities for soothing water views. Trails and pathways will offer connectivity while open public green spaces will contribute to a serene yet convivial atmosphere.

ARCHITECTURAL REFINEMENTS

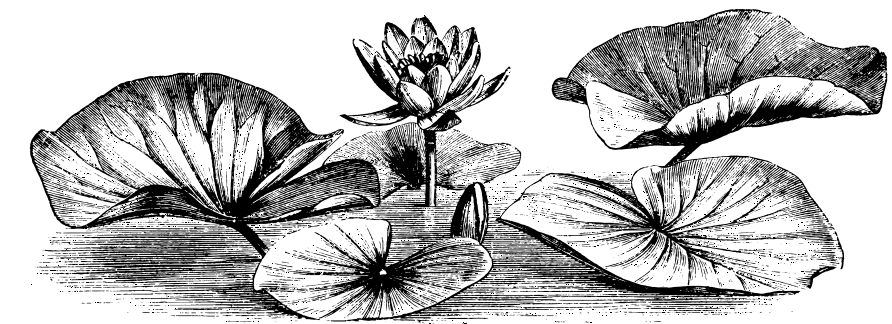

The architectural language originally established by Duany and Plater-Zyberk and preserved within the Windsor code has stood the test of time and created an authentic identity for the community. An updated code for the North Village retains signature elements of Windsor's iconic Anglo-Caribbean style to ensure visual continuity while encouraging a more minimal expression of its architectural vernacular. A subtle evolution of the Windsor style will incorporate building practices to achieve a high level of sustainable innovation as well as a lower environmental impact. Key features, including courtyards, single-room depths and a light color palette will remain in the code. However, details will be modified to engender a more contemporary aesthetic. This will open the door for a new generation of architects to realize their most ambitious visions on behalf of Members.

NATURE AT THE FORE

The North Village quietly champions a holistic, thoughtfully integrated approach to sustainable living. From the master plan that makes informed use of the land to landscaping that respects the unique ecological environment, nature is at the fore. A network of tree-shaded pathways, open green spaces, lookouts and accessible private islands are among the features that create opportunities for Members to immerse themselves in unique experiences surrounded by a lush landscape. The design code for residences brings sustainability home, quite literally, with guidelines that shape innovative, environmentally sensitive architectural solutions for the climate and context of the North Village.

AMENITIES ABOUND

AMENITIES

The North Village will feature new amenities for Windsor's multigenerational membership to enjoy. The Fitness and Wellness Centre will expand the community's health and well-being offering to 12,620 square feet. Generous studio spaces for cardio, strength and flexibility training will be complete with the latest equipment. The centre will also provide serene and luxurious spa treatment rooms, relaxation spaces and a juice bar. A collection of outdoor amenities will enhance the experience of the North Village's spectacular natural environment. The perfect perch for morning coffee or a sunset cocktail will be a viewing platform showcasing sweeping views across the mangroves to the lagoon and horizon beyond. A kayak launch with storage will provide seamless connection to the Indian River.

Wellness is a guiding principle behind the design of the North Village. The approach is holistic and dynamic, encompassing the ecological environment as well as the people and structures within it. Carefully protected natural habitats within and around the North Village nurture native species while thoughtfully designed outdoor spaces and amenities enhance the time Members spend in the fresh air. The refined architectural code complements these efforts, respecting the health of the environment with innovative building practices while elevating the residential experience with guidelines that promote harmonious indoor-outdoor living in South Florida's remarkable climate.

GREEN SPACES

The North Village will offer Members a thoughtfully imagined balance between community living and true privacy. Within the 47-acre master plan, over 26.5 acres are devoted to parks, greens and islands, and nearly 9.7 acres are comprised of water, with a freshwater lake to the east and an estuary to the west. This abundance of outdoor space has been gently shaped to provide a variety of sporting, relaxation and social experiences.

A network of trails and boardwalks for scenic walking, biking and horseback riding links all areas, from the ellipse-shaped Village Green with park benches at the southern entry to the North Village to the “Oak Pantheon” with tree-shaded seating and a firepit on the western perimeter of the property. Two islands—one in the estuary and the other in the freshwater lake—will be accessible by pedestrian bridges. The estuary will be home to an “Art Island” where architect- and artist-designed works will create an inspiring space for quiet contemplation. The lake island is being designed as a rookery—a habitat for birdlife. A boardwalk around its perimeter will allow up-close observation of native and migratory birds. Water sports will also be close at hand, with a kayak launch giving direct access to the Indian River. Secured onsite storage will be available for kayaks, canoes and paddleboards.

NEIGHBORS TO NATURE

Windsor's extraordinary barrier island location between the Atlantic Ocean and the Indian River Lagoon envelops Members in a world of luminous natural beauty. The tranquil environment of the North Village is enhanced by neighboring conservation areas that create a precious, forever preserved buffer zone comprising over 5,400 acres of land and water. The Pelican Island National Wildlife Refuge to the north, which holds the distinction of being the nation's first national wildlife refuge, is on the most diverse estuary in North America, the Indian River. It supports endangered species, migratory birds and key fish spawning sites. To the east, the Archie Carr National Wildlife Refuge is one of the most significant sea turtle nesting sites in the world. The Historic Jungle Trail, listed on the National Register of Historic Places, runs along the western perimeter of the property. The approximately eight-mile trail, originally built in the 1920s for citrus growers, passes through hammocks of palms and other coastal wetland species, along the shores of Indian River Lagoon.
